

The vote on this important change in media regulations must be postponed until after an open hearing can be held. The public must have a chance to read the new rules and respond to the potential changes.

Consolidating ownership of media outlets is not a benefit to the American citizenry.